

Head of the Class.

Mensa is an organization for smart people like you. Anyone who scores in the top 2% on an accepted intelligence test is invited to join. Mensa members come from all walks of life making it a new experience every time you walk through the door. If you've ever been called the head of the class, an egghead, a wiseguy, or smarty pants you'll fit right in. Members gather to socialize, help out their communities and have thought-provoking conversations.

Are you the Head of the Class?
